TERSELY TOLD.

J. J. Hooton has returned to the city after an absence of several days.

Alderman W. B. Wright is among those who are confined to their homes with illness.

R. B. Roberts is reported as being quite ill, though his illness is thought to be due to a cold.

Mr. George Berry the popular check clerk of the Union Naval Stores Co. at Goulding, has recovered and was out yesterday.

The snappers A. J. Chapman with 300 snappers and the Maud Spurling with a catch of 2,000 entered port yesterday.

The Norwegian bark Marianna entered quarantine late yesterday afternoon. She is consigned to H. Baars & Co.

The many friends of Mrs. Imogene Patrick Barker will be glad to know that she is on the road to recovery from a severe case of yellow fever.

The steamer Nederland from Guipport to the S. P. Shotter Company, is in quarantine and will probably be released to-morrow and come over to the city for cargo.

Hon. John E. Stillman was taken ill yesterday afternoon and was compelled to go to his home. Reports last night were to the effect that his condition was not at all serious.

The health of those occupying cells in the county jail is exceptionally good at present. There is not a case of sickness in the jail, notwithstanding the fact that there are sixty-one inmates there at present.

Have you always accomplished, on the morrow, all of the things you have "put off" doing until then? If you have, you are a very rich and a very happy man. If you have not, you ought to be a wiser man—and stop fooling yourself. How many times have you deferred until another time

Prompt, Easy
Recovery.

The greatest thing in the world—
—A Mother's Love; the love she lavishes on her children; the love her child should have for her; without this love she could not endure the agonies incident to childbirth; appreciative of this love, Mother's Friend was devised to lessen the pain and anguish of childbirth, that her love might not be strained to the breaking point. Mother's Friend does all this and more—it enables the fond mother to speedily recuperate from the labors of maternity, enables her to regain her lost strength, preserves her youthful lines of beauty, and makes pregnancy her crowning joy without any thorns to mar it.

Mother's Friend

is applied externally, is most harmless in its consistency, most happy in its results, and is of such merit that no case of labor should be conducted without its use. It is a liniment for massage of the abdominal muscles during pregnancy, and by its use their tonicity and power of contraction is greatly enhanced, enabling them to sustain the great strain brought to bear on them at this time. It is Mother's Friend. The name should be enough to recommend it to all who expect to be mothers.

DE FUNIAK NEWS OF THE PAST WEEK

Prominent Men to Attend the Fair
Personal and General News of Interest.

Special to The Journal.
DeFuniak, Oct. 14.—Congressman W. B. Lamar will attend the fair, also the Honorable Harvey Jordan, of Atlanta. Mr. Jordan is president of the Southern Cotton Association and is booked for Saturday of fair week.

The third day of the fair, Friday, will be Military Day and the fair association will give a handsome gold medal to the best drilled man, and a cup to the best drilled squad. The winner of the medal retains it and the cup will belong to the winning squad until another proves greater ability.

The Town Improvement Association realizing how fatiguing and unpleasant it is for ladies to stand around on the streets all day, especially during gala days, will erect a "bower of rest" for those who visit the fair and all who are so inclined may take advantage of it. A step in this direction has been needed for some time and the association is to be congratulated for their thoughtfulness in the matter.

The ladies of this association served hot chocolate, coffee, sandwiches, cake and ice cream on the upstairs verandas of the Armory Wednesday evening and as a result added nearly twenty dollars to their treasury.

Mrs. M. E. Egbert gave a reception on Friday evening of last week at her home on Live Oak avenue in honor of Mrs. L. J. Reeves, of Pensacola. Mrs. Reeves returned to Bonifay Sunday, where she will remain till after frost.

Mrs. Marion Clutter, of Pensacola, is the guest of her brother, Mr. O. J. Brown. Mrs. Clutter drove forty miles through the country from the detention camp to Escambia, arriving here Friday morning. She will remain here several weeks, having been engaged by the First Methodist church as organist.

Dr. C. B. McKinnon, of Milton, was here two days this week on professional business. Mrs. McKinnon and the little ones, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell for several days, returned home Tuesday night with the doctor.

Mrs. F. C. Eaton came home from East Pass on Thursday, where she has been since June.

After a tour of two months in the west, Mr. J. J. McCaskill arrived home Thursday.

Rev. S. B. Rogers, president of the State Baptist Association, was here Tuesday in the interest of the church at this place.

The hope of the minds of the people here for an early frost has been greatly increased by the coolness of the weather the past week. Pensacola has had the sympathy of all DeFuniak during her brave fight with the fever, and no place wishes for the speedy extermination of the mosquitoes and the stamping out of the fever there more than DeFuniak.

THE JOURNAL MAILED OUTSIDE
THE CITY AT SAME PRICE CHARGED FOR IT IN THE CITY.

There are still a few people in Pensacola, who do not seem to realize that The Journal will be sent to friends and relatives who are outside the city at 10c a week—exactly the same price which they are required to pay in the city.

Many are having The Journal sent to their friends who are interested in the fever news here. It is a source of pleasure to them, because it gives them all the home news in detail.

The letters you write only give part of some of the news, but The Journal gives all the details of all the news.

Send in the name of your absent friend and the paper will be mailed regularly. It will be greatly appreciated and will save you the trouble of writing letters so often. There are many who send their own paper away after reading it themselves. But to do this they have to put a one-cent stamp, making the cost six cents a week, and the paper reaches its destination one day late. Then, again, there are times when the paper is forgotten, or when the one-cent stamp is not available. All this can be done away with by having it sent from this office.

ORIGIN OF EARRINGS

THE CURIOUS LEGEND THAT IS TOLD
BY THE MOHAMMEDANS.

Sarah's Vow Against Hagar and How Abraham Enabled Her to Fulfill It—Men, Women and Children in Many Lands Adorn Their Ears.

The Mohammedans have a curious legend to account for the beginning of the custom of wearing earrings. They say that Sarah, being jealous of Hagar, vowed that she would not rest until she had imbrued her hands in the blood of her bondmaid. Abraham quickly pierced Hagar's ear and drew a ring through it, so that Sarah was able to fulfill her rash vow without danger to the bondmaid's life.

From that time, they say, it became customary for women to wear earrings. The story of Rebekah's earrings is only one of many early Biblical allusions to the ornament. When Aaron made the golden calf, it will be remembered, he called upon the Israelites to "break off the golden earrings which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons and of your daughters and bring them unto me." And out of these and other golden ornaments the calf was made. From this it is plain that earrings were worn by the Hebrews without regard to sex or age.

In Great Britain the familiar ornaments have been worn for many centuries, and not by women only. Charles I., it is said, wore pearl earrings of considerable value and the day before his execution took one from his ear and gave it to Bishop Juxon for transmission to his daughter, the princess royal. Rabelais says that it was in his day—the era of Henry VII. of England—that men in France first began to wear earrings.

It is worth noting that at least one existing portrait of Shakespeare represents him wearing such an adornment. This is at Wentworth Park, Yorkshire, and shows the poet with mustache and beard and an earring in his left ear. Lord Sherborne possesses at Sherborne House, near the old world town of Northleach, a portrait of one Thomas Dutton, a sixteenth century worthy, who is represented, says his lordship, "in the prime of life and wearing a remarkably fine pearl in his left ear. The right ear is not shown, but presumably he wore a corresponding earring in it."

Nowadays few men wear them save some sailors and fishermen and navies. Among the people of the southern part of Europe their use by both sexes is more common and often begins at an early age. In Spain babies' ears are bored soon after birth. The family doctor performs the operation and inserts a gold ear wire. Boys wear these ear wires till they attain manhood, when the wires are removed. The idea is that the process has a most beneficial influence on the eyes.

A Spanish woman writes, "Ophthalmia and scrofula are rare in Spain, and the natives maintain that freedom therefrom is owing to ear piercing."

In Portugal and Italy and frequently in France children usually have their ears pierced at an early age. Many men in the south retain their earrings after reaching manhood. Cardinal Mezzofanti, famous for his powers as a linguist, is said by his biographer to have worn them from infancy as a preventive against an affection of the eyes to which he had been subject.

The popular notion that piercing the ear exercises a beneficial influence upon the optic nerves is widespread. An English traveler of little more than a century ago noticed that many men in Vienna wore earrings and was told they were worn a good deal for the eyes, "the hole in the ear and the weight of the earring drawing any humor in the eyes to those parts," which is hardly scientific.

Village folk in England believe in the good effect of ear piercing on the eye just as firmly as their like in Italy and elsewhere abroad. In fact, in some places ear piercing is regarded by the rustics as a remedy for many troubles. At the other side of the world boys have their ears pierced from a different motive. A writer on Chinese superstitions says that John Chinaman pierces his little boy's ears and makes him wear earrings, for if an evil spirit happens to see him he will mistake him for a girl and will not take the trouble to carry him away.—London Telegraph.

Celebrities at the Breakfast Table.
Dean Pigou, in his book of reminiscences entitled "Odds and Ends," tells a good story of the time when literary breakfasts were the rage in London.

A lady who had risen from the ranks, and whose husband had realized a large fortune, affected what she had neither been born to nor could ever really feel herself at home in. But she desired to be "in the swim" and suggested to her equally ignorant husband that they should give a literary breakfast. The invitations were issued and several people of light and leading assembled at the breakfast. The discussion at the table was on the comparative merits of Cicero and Demosthenes. The hostess listened intently for some time and ultimately, as the conversation became more animated, she called out to her husband at the other end of the table:

"Husband, dear, take down at once the names and addresses of these two gentlemen and let us invite them to our next breakfast."

Poorly Bonded.
A Scotch divine had risen up in the pulpit to lead the congregation in prayer when a man in the front row of the gallery took out his handkerchief to wipe his brow, forgetting that a pack of cards was wrapped up in it. Noisily the whole deck was scattered over the floor of the gallery. "Oh, mon, mon," solemnly remarked the minister, "surely your psalm book has been but ill bound."

W. B. SHEPPARD HELPS RELIEF FUND

HE ALSO COMMENDS THE JOURNAL FOR ITS VIGOROUS SUPPORT OF HEALTH AUTHORITIES.

In sending $25.00 for the relief fund, Hon. W. B. Sheppard, U. S. District Attorney for the northern district of Florida, who resides in Pensacola, but who is now in Tallahassee, writes The Journal as follows:

Hon. W. B. Sheppard's Letter.
Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 13, 1905.
Mr. Frank L. Mayes, Editor Journal, Pensacola, Fla.

Dear Mr. Mayes:—I was not aware that the relief committee's emergency was so great. I enclose you my check for $25.00 which please deliver to the proper hands.

The Journal is anxiously awaited every day for the latest news of the situation. Everybody out of Pensacola recognizes the fact that had The Journal's lead for co-operation with support of the health authorities been followed, the fever situation would have been vastly different today. The outside world has been amazed at the ignorance, obstinacy and resistance exhibited by a large element there, even to the legal test of the right of compulsory sanitation in the time of epidemic.

Pensacola's visitation is to be regretted for many reasons, not least among which, perhaps, is the unwanted publicity given to our stupidity, as well as the unwholesome sanitary conditions tolerated in the past discredit to a city of the magnitude and commercial importance of Pensacola. Mayor Bliss's devotion and loyalty to the public welfare has received much commendation from those who are only "lookers on in Vienna."

EARTHQUAKES IN JAMAICA

By Associated Press.
Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 14.—Two earthquake shocks of unusual duration, and affecting the whole island of Jamaica were felt here this week. The first shock was on Thursday and lasted nearly a minute. The second and most severe occurred to-day and lasted a minute and a half. The undulating motion of the earth made some people very sick. There was no serious damage to property.

COUNTERFEITING THE GENUINE

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute.
